

*This is a story the children wrote in the Lovettsville Childcare program.
They performed it on Thursday, April 15th for the office staff.*

The fairy mothers put their babies in tulips to take a nap. The dragon comes and takes the babies. The good knight saves the babies. The knight fights the dragon. The knight wins! The dragon is dead. The dragon comes back to life. He turns into a good dragon. He joins the good team and fights no more.

Another dragon puts fire on the princess fairy. The good dragon comes to fight the bad dragon. The good dragon kills the bad dragon. Then the bad dragon turns into another good dragon. Now there are two good dragons.

The fairies decide to have a birthday party for the fairy babies. The fairy mother has to find a pink dress for her baby. The babies come out of their tulip cradles and play. The fairies invite the good dragons to the party. At the party, one fairy loses her earring. It is lost in the grass. Everyone looks for it. They find it!

All of the tulips die. So the fairy mother puts her baby in the wrong flower, a snapdragon. The snapdragon closes on the fairy baby. The knight comes and slays the snapdragon. He saves the fairy baby!

A bad fairy comes. A good fairy flies with the bad fairy. The bad fairy turns into a good fairy.

It was Easter. They have an egg hunt. They lose a brown egg. They see a pretty fairy, named Alecka. She doesn't want to come with them. She turned into everything; she was a magic fairy. She lost her wand; she's crying. The witch finds the wand and steals it. Then the knight goes after the witch. He gets rid of the witch, takes the wand and gives it back to Alecka.

One fairy was lost in the forest. She found the lost brown egg and put it in the basket. Then the witch wakes up and turns into a good witch.

The fairy comes out of the forest, follows the other fairies and becomes their friend. They all go pick strawberries. --The End
